

From the book:

You are wealthy now with an abundance of what you are thinking about.

You recognize that nothing in this world is greater than your spiritual identity, your relationship with the Creator that makes you the creator of your world and experience.

Your world comes to you, through you. Everything in your world comes in answer to a call from within your spiritual self for growth.

You are the question. Your life is the answer. If you want a better life, make yourself into a better question.

Readers' comments:

“I just want to say THANK YOU! for your wonderfully inspiring articles!”

“I wanted to let you know that your writings have been a blessing to me. I found ‘The Secrets of the Universe’ especially inspiring and dead-on.”

“I found your writings clear, concise, and just the thing for me.”
